Welcome to St. Anne's for the 2017-2018 school year.

We are looking forward to a busy and exciting week as we wind down the school year. Tuesday will be our annual Pre-K Day with K as we shadow the kindergarten class all day and have a taste of what to look forward to next school year. We are excited to perform our spring program for family and friends on Wednesday evening at 6:00PM and for the residents at the nursing home on Thursday at 10:30AM.

When we are in our classroom this week, we will be learning more about the life cycle of caterpillars/butterflies.

What are we working on this week in Preschool?

Young children are constantly learning about the world around them. Most children learn best through experiences and "hands-on" activities. Therefore, what may look like "just playing" to an onlooker, is really an abundance of learning opportunities. Here are a few things your child will be working on in preschool:

- Following classroom rules and routines
- Listening attentively and responding appropriately to stories and group activities
- Interacting appropriately and effectively with others.
- Identifying and writing upper and lower case letters. Understanding beginning letter sounds.
- Understanding the life-cycle of caterpillars/butterflies
- Memory/recall skills
- Word parts/syllables/compound words
- Exploring different kinds of insects and their characteristics.
- Recognizing and continuing patterns
- Observing changes in different growing seeds/plants
- Recalling past Bible stories/real life application stories from Religion class
- Making the sign of the cross, participating in prayers
